

Assumption:

- each centre exists when there is at least one staff hired
- a particular staff only work in a particular centre and only have one role
- each centre runs at least one class
- not every facility within the centre is applied for class, some may leave for blank
- some staffs may teach a few classes and some may not have any class to teach
- some new members may be referred by an old member, some new members may join by themselves, which is not referred by any old member
- some old members may refer many new members to the centre but some may not refer anyone
- members may not join any class or they can join many classes, therefore, they may pay for many classes or may not have to pay
- not every staff has to run the assessment